

The first three presidents played a significant role in making the American Experiment successful. Choose one of the first three presidents and explain how their actions impacted the success of the nation.